LA SALLE UNIVERSITY'S WEEKLY INFORMATION CIRCULAR

OCTOBER 3, 1997

THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

TO: The La Salle Community

FROM: Brother Joe Burke

RE: Dr. Joseph Kane

I am pleased to announce that Dr. Joseph Kane has been appointed Distinguished Professor of Business Administration. In order to fittingly launch Dr. Kane on this new adventure, and to express our appreciation for his work as Provost, there will be a no-speeches reception for him:

THURSDAY, October 17th from 3:30 to 5:00 PM in the Dunleavy Room

I hope you can join us!

Campus News is distributed weekly to foster communication and encourage information sharing among University departments. Articles submitted are the responsibility of their authors alone and do not imply an opinion on the part of La Salle University or the Department of Mail and Duplicating Services.

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE
Minutes of the April 18, 1997 Meeting

In Attendance: G. Bruce, M. Burke, C. Capers, C. Hofmann, G. Johnson, J. Kane,
M. Kerlin, J. Lloyd, A. Mickle, L. Miller, B. Millard, N. Tigar

Excused: N. Brewer

Absent: J. Volpe

Guest: L. Heenan

1. Minutes: Minutes of the March 21, 1997 meeting were approved.
2. Meeting Schedule: It was agreed to schedule one additional meeting for the 96-97 academic year on Wednesday, May 7th at 1:00 PM.
3. Major in General Studies in the Liberal Arts: This new major was proposed for the Continuing Studies Program. It is intended to replace the Continuing Studies major in Humanities.

The current Humanities major has its own full set of courses. However, there are only currently 5 students listed with this major. No Humanities courses have been offered for several years for lack of enrollment. The General Studies (GS) major would have no courses of its own, but allow students to select courses in three of ten "discipline majors" to create the General Studies major. All of these courses already exist and are offered except courses in Spanish. Spanish courses will need to be added to the course offerings to determine if there is adequate enrollment to support them without drawing off enrollments from other courses. The major is intended to meet the needs of students who want a broad liberal arts program while also supporting enrollment in courses in other discipline majors. This major is likely to be of stronger interest for transfer students.

In the discussion it was indicated that after starting with a larger number of discipline majors, the GS major excluded majors with a professional orientation and focused on traditional liberal arts disciplines. Also there was an extended discussion focusing on the question of whether the GS major should be offered in the day program.

Following the discussion it was moved by C. Capers and seconded by C. Hofmann that the Committee accept the proposal as presented and that the presenters evaluate the advisability of offering the GS major in the day program and report this information back to the Committee. The motion was approved (8-0-3).

4. Academic Calendar: It had been agreed at earlier meetings that the Committee would consider at its April meeting the question of the academic calendar especially in light of the possibility of introducing a January term into the academic calendar. The January term is one of the new programmatic initiatives under consideration by the Academic Affairs Area.

Jerry Johnson began with an overview and summary of previous discussion concerning the revision of the calendar. These have largely focused on the fall semester. In general there never has been a strong enough consensus that the calendar should be changed in order for it to happen.

The primary discussion was on the January term and its implication for the spring and summer term calendars. The January term would provide students who need to make up a course with an additional option other than summer. Since a number of these courses would involve international travel, the January term would support current efforts to internationalize the curriculum. Potential problems which need to be considered include: starting and ending the spring term later, the implication for the May session, and the availability of residence and food services during the January period.

It was agreed that Council of Deans would discuss this further, that representatives from the three Schools would work on a proposal that would be brought back to the Academic Affairs Committee early in the fall, 1998 semester.

LA SALLE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TOPS ACADEMIC CHARTS

PHILADELPHIA - The La Salle University's women's basketball team had the highest grade point average of 300 Division I playing institutions in 1996-97, according to the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

The Explorers compiled a 3.501 GPA last year, with seven players gaining better than a 3.50 GPA and one Rhodes Scholar applicant.

"The players are not allowed to ask me questions in practice, because I don't have the answers. They're too smart," quipped La Salle Head Coach John Miller. "I've always preached that we recruit the person more so than the player. The names of the people may change from year to year, but the personality stays the same. This honor just proves that when you recruit quality people, you get quality results on and off the court."

Laura Newhard, a sophomore from Northampton, PA, posted a 3.68 GPA as an education major. In limited action of the bench, Newhard averaged 2.3 points and 1.6 rebounds per game as a freshman. Newhard collected second team All-State honors as a senior in high school.

Katie Wolfe, a senior from Ambler, PA and Archbishop Wood, owns a 3.5 GPA majoring in management. As a part-time starter, Wolfe averaged 9.0 points per game and 2.5 assists per game last season. Wolfe was a four-time All-Catholic selection and two-time Most Valuable Player of the Catholic League Northern Division.

Ann Gallagher, from Springfield, PA and Cardinal O'Hara, graduated with a 3.6 GPA in psychology, while a member of the Honors Program. As the starting point guard for three seasons, Gallagher averaged 3.8 points and 3.6 assists per game last season and 3.9 points and 4.0 assists per game for her career. Gallagher collected Philadelphia Inquirer All-Southeastern PA and All-Area honors as a high school player. She is now employed with SmithKline Pharmaceuticals.

Tina Wahl, from Ambler, PA and Gwynedd Mercy Academy, graduated with a 3.99 GPA from the political science program, while a member of the Honors Program. A former walk-on, Wahl was a Rhodes Scholar candidate and a member of Channel 6's Best of the Class of 1993. She is now working in community service for Covenant House in New York City.

Other returners with high marks include senior Sarah Haynes, from New Palestine, IN, with a 3.85 GPA with a dual major in math and secondary education. Senior Sarah Weiss, from Libertyville, IN, has a 3.59 in elementary education. Also, junior Carrie Jewett, from Circle Pines, MN, has a 3.91 GPA in mathematics while a member of the Honors Program.

Last season the Explorers finished 21-7, second in the Atlantic 10 West with a 12-4. That was the La Salle's seventh 20-win season in the last 13 years.

Also on the list below, is Indiana State University, which is coached by Cheryl Reeve, an alumnae of the La Salle basketball team. Reeve, who graduated in 1988, played under Miller and was his first graduate assistant.

Available at the Center:

Copies of two practical and popular newsletters,

The Teaching Professor and FORUM

both packed with ideas for enlivening class sessions, engaging students in class activities, and solving common problems encountered by teachers in the classroom.

A small collection of some of the most popular and practical books on teaching in university classrooms, including such topics as cooperative learning, active learning, effective lecturing, and conducting effective discussions.

A large screen TV and a VCR for viewing tapes, and a modest collection of tapes on teaching and learning.

Featured this semester: Learning About Learning, a 20 minute tape that describes four practical and powerful principles derived from cognitive science and which are immediately applicable to university classrooms. Bring your lunch, and watch it in the Center. Call ahead to schedule this tape.

Arrangements can be made to borrow TLC print materials by phoning the Center at x1687, or sending email to tlc@lasalle.edu. Tapes do not circulate.

Fall Semester Workshops

November 4
2:30 - 4:00 PM
Location: TBA

Faculty-Student Interaction in a Changing Legal Environment

John Wright, Senior Partner in the law firm of Montgomery, McCracken, Walker, and Rhoads, will offer guidelines for establishing appropriate interactions with students both in and out of the classroom setting. There will be ample time for questions, and a reception will follow.

November

Making Effective Use of Advising Sessions

The relationship that we establish with our students is critical and essential for the learning process, and no relationship is as special as that of advisor/advisee. Join Sam Wiley and Julie Valenti for a workshop that will give you ideas and suggestions for making sessions with your advisees personal and educationally powerful.

December

Making Links Beyond the Classroom Walls

Studies have shown that through community-learning students increase their academic achievement. Specifically, they attain better grades, define clearer goals for their future, get into better graduate schools, and integrate and apply course work more swiftly and completely.

This session will examine ways that we can help our students continue their learning outside of the classroom. The methodology of community-learning will be introduced, with special emphasis on experiences at La Salle.

I am interested in attending the following workshops (*dates and times to be determined based upon schedules of those who preregister):

☐ Faculty/Student Interactions (Oct. 21) ☐ * Advising ☐ * Community Learning

Session Update

Faculty-Student Interaction in a Changing Legal Environment

Please note that the session originally scheduled for Tuesday, October 21 has been changed to Tuesday, November 4. It will be held at the previously scheduled time -- 2:30 to 4:00 PM. In addition, the speaker will be Mr. John Wright, Senior Partner in the law firm of Montgomery, McCracken, Walker, and Rhoads. David Friedman is not available during the day, but if this session stirs additional interest, we will invite Mr. Friedman for an evening follow-up session in the spring semester.

Those who already pre-registered for this session will be asked to confirm by email because of the change in date. Those wishing to pre-register for this, or any of the other sessions listed on the Fall Workshop Announcement (appearing separately in this issue of Campus News) may send an email message to tlc@lasalle.edu, or a note to Preston Feden at Box 222, or phone x1687 and leave a message.

This session promises to be quite informative. Faculty and staff have expressed many questions about the law as it relates to the various roles they assume in the education of our students. Please join us at this session to learn some guidelines, and to have an opportunity to ask any questions that might be of special concern to you.
